

INTRODUCING
NOAH Foam

After 25 years of trials, we have developed the most revolutionary open cell viscoelastic foam that is breathable

NOAH is the only open cell viscoelastic foam in the world that removes excess heat and moisture by allowing air to pass through it.

IT IS BETTER THAN GOOD
IT'S REVOLUTIONARY!

Superior in:

- High humidity areas
- Antibacterial, antimicrobial and hypoallergenic needs
- Filtering applications
- Perfect for intensive care applications when combined with high-resilience foams

You receive the benefits of open cell technology while having the pressure reducing applications of viscoelastic foam.

We are committed to making the most technologically advanced and comfortable support surfaces for both home and medical applications.
